

Test Prep Professionals New SAT and ACT Tutor Training

Large companies have the ability to scale instructor training but this can be difficult for smaller firms. Developing a consistent brand of instructor when one is also the founder, chief tutor, and administrative support for a company is difficult at best.

Our goal is to address this pain-point; to help small and medium sized firms manage the training process and to improve the quality of each instructor that finishes training.

We've distilled the critical factors for instructor development and concentrated them into a two programs: Training Anytime and Training Anytime Plus Certification. Both are designed to reduce the opportunity costs associated with training through establishing a base level of trainee competency.
