

Tutor Recruitment Program

Finding excellent tutors in today's environment of matching sites and burgeoning competition can be a distraction from service delivery.

Recruiting great talent is far more nuanced than simply posting an ad and interviewing everyone with a 90th percentile test score. Ideal candidates should fit the company culture and have a maturity and sense of duty reflective of the company's brand.

Over the past 15 years we've placed hundreds of tutors into ideal situations with boutique firms. We seek a win-win situation by being transparent and asking candidates to be equally so. If you find recruitment to be stressful or to have a greater opportunity cost than had been planned, let us recruit for you. We require a preliminary fee to cover expenses. Beyond that, the only time you pay us is when you offer employment to one of our candidates.
